The consumer will be deemed not to have taken reasonable care of the Products if such Products are not kept packaged in their original boxes, with all disks, manuals, cables, and other items and that the external packaging is not altered in any way.
- 20.4.2. The Products contain software where the seal to the licence has been broken. Any Products returned by the consumer under this clause will be charged a processing fee of £10.00 plus VAT which represents EarthSense's direct costs for such a return.
